

ECOVADIS 2025: DELABIE RETAINS ITS GOLD MEDAL AND CONTINUES TO PROGRESS!

Participating for the 5th year in a row, DELABIE has once again received an EcoVadis gold medal for its performance and engagement in CSR (Corporate Social Responsibility).

Its score has now reached 80/100, which is an improvement on 2024 (74/100). This places us:

- in the top 3% of audited companies worldwide, up from 5% in 2024
- in the top 1% in our sector.

Progression in a more exacting context

This year, EcoVadis changed its approach: the scores are no longer decided in concrete terms, but instead in comparison with other companies.

In this more competitive framework, DELABIE not only managed to retain its gold medal, but also to improve its score in the global rankings.

A recognised engagement in CSR:

EcoVadis audited over 150,000 companies in 2025 (126,000 in 2024) and nearly 6,000 in our sector.

In this context, DELABIE has placed:

- In the top 1% environmentally
- In the top 2% for Social and Human Rights, Ethics and Responsible Procurement.

These results reinforce our efforts to:

- reduce water and energy consumption,
- guarantee the reparability and longevity of our products,
- promote responsible practices in our buying processes and management,
- put in place measures to support local workers and stakeholders..

A collective success

This gold medal illustrates the strength of our CSR mission and collaborative teamwork over the years.

It is the result of the engagement of the whole DELABIE team on a daily basis.

In 2025, DELABIE applied its culture of excellence to this significant mission. Roll on 2026!
